Of Jonathan Martin, a Settler at 156.

Corner.

I searched the Centennial History for the name of Martin and could not find it - it is not there.

Jonathan Martin came to town from Limerick, Maine, in 1830, and settled at Swift's Corner, just at the foot of the hill, on the south side of the road. He owned a small farm, and with a small still of his own, he made a good living, and was a very successful business man.

He was what was called a "Corky" in those days, better known in the shoe factory, where shoes and boots were made, than in the shoe store, where shoes and boots were sold.

He was a very successful business man, and was a very successful business man.

He was a very successful business man, and was a very successful business man.
